

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

It is going to be rather interesting to watch the special session of the Legislature when it convenes later this summer. We hope that the tug of war that has developed between Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes can be resolved so that the business of the state can move forward.

We suspect that Gov. Smith was right in vetoing the one year appropriation bill as this would seem to be the intent of the Constitution. However, we believe that he is going to have to exert more leadership in the field of taxation during the special session if the legislature is to come up with a solution within the 30-day session.

The Governor wants a two year appropriation bill that will require new taxes, but his selection of tax suggestions during the regular session left a lot to be desired.

It will also be interesting to see what effect the vote on annual sessions August 5 will have on this special session. If the public turns down the annual session amendment to the constitution, it will add strength to the Governor's position while if they pass it, it could make his position weaker.

Rep. Frank Calhoun last week released the results of his recent questionnaire published in this paper and the other papers in his district and if they are a true reflection of this area then the governor was right in vetoing the one year bill.

The poll shows the people of this area opposing a one year bill but favoring annual sessions—which would mean that the public wants one year appropriations but wants to wait until the constitution is changed to permit it.

In other results the people of this area seem to oppose Daylight Savings Time, 608-416; oppose one-year appropriations, 448-328; and oppose the removal of all sales tax exemptions, 732-180.

When it comes time to come up with the money to finance a two-year bill the people of this area seem to favor a corporate income tax and the removal of all sales tax exemptions except food and drugs. Those taking part in the poll favored the removal of the sales tax exemptions (all but food and drugs), 548-344 and the corporate income tax, 508-392.

In other matters covered in the poll the public favored the following actions that were passed during the past session: authorize chemical tests to determine intoxication of drivers, 924-76, state minimum wage, 644-328, and pay raise for public school teachers, 552-412.

The poll also shows a desire for annual sessions which will be voted on in August, 648-236 and favor permanent voter registration, 580-396.

If there is time during the special session, we would like to see Rep. Calhoun come up with another questionnaire so that his constituents will have another chance to express themselves on the subjects before the legislature.

As It Looks From Here . . .

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The historian, Tacitus, described conditions of Rome 90 years after the death of Christ during the reign of Galba.

According to translation he said, "We never enter upon the history of a period rich in disaster, gloomy with wars, rent with sedition and savage in its very hours of peace."

Here in our country today, we can hardly successfully deny that we, too, are "rich in disaster," "gloomy with wars," "rent by sedition," and environed by behavior in our cities and on some college campuses that is savage beyond previous experience.

There is occasion enough for genuine concern. The gulf between the generations, we are told, is a great yawning chasm, unfathomable, unbridgeable and irreducible. Across this abyss the generations speak to each other, sometimes in angry shouts and sometimes in barely audible sounds of steadily diminishing meaning.

Our great cities, in which are heaped about 70 percent of our population, seem suddenly determined to vindicate our prophecies in urban decay.

As we celebrate this July 4, 193 years after the Declaration of Independence, we are beset by some difficulties strange to us. But this Nation has been beset with difficulties before.

Traditionally, Americans have not been given to despair — and there is a difference between despair and concern. The difference is faith and hope mixed with some optimism in the face of adversity.

The Americans of 1776 did not despair when haphazardly selected delegates of 13 quarreling colonies met to proclaim their independence in the luminous phrases of 33-year-old Thomas Jefferson.

Neither did they despair when their ragtag armies broke and ran in the face of British assaults.

They did not despair in 1812 when our Nation's Capitol was burned and the Government fled.

Discouragement did not develop into despair in 1860 when the Union fell into division and impoverished armies met with failure after failure in spite of the genius of a great leader.

There was no despair when that leader was destroyed in the senseless assassination that disfigured America's history.

Our people did not despair in the carnage of World War I. They did not despair when the great depression in the 30's paralyzed the National economy and dragged millions of citizens into want.

This Nation has time after time had its heart broken, its hopes frustrated, its expectations dimmed — but it has never despaired or resigned to defeat. It has never lost the faith, the courage and the confidence that attended its birth.

To say we have problems is to repeat what everyone knows. We are perplexed by the tumult on many campuses. People are confused by disorders in the cities. Many are disappointed by the failure of our system to produce the good things we would like to see all Americans enjoy. There is reason for concern by the new militancy springing up all over the Country. Our feelings are hurt and we are annoyed by criticism of America at home and abroad.

The Declaration that was finally produced on July 4, 1776 promised freedom — but it did not promise freedom from the foil, anguish and ardor of democratic government in the turbulent world of the 18th century. It did not promise it then — it cannot promise it now. Our institutions promise us not the freedom from problems but the freedom to work at their solution. Thornton Wilder had this line in his play "The Skin of Our Teeth," "I know that every good and excellent thing in the world stands moment by moment on the razor edge of danger and must be fought for — whether it's a field, a house or a country."

So it is with us if we maintain the spirit that has been the American tradition since 1776.

Accident Report Forms Available

Accident reports made by police officers are by law for the confidential use of the Texas Department of Public Safety and other state agencies for statistical purposes and accident prevention purposes. Only the identity of persons involved is permitted by law to be disclosed.

For the purpose of assisting insurance adjusters and attorneys, Police Chief Bryan Wasson has created a special accident report from which is available from the Hamlin Police Department for a fee of $1. The report is designed to meet the needs of insurance companies and attorneys. This procedure has been adopted by many police departments.

THE JOY OF SHARING

There is pleasure in doing things with others.

It may be looking at a picture magazine, or riding toys, or for parents it may even be sharing knowledge of the day's events that bring joy.

God's people have a desire to share with you in the greatest joy, that of worshiping together in God's House. ATTEND CHURCH

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

TRADITIONALLY NEW... FIELD TO FEEDLOT

NOW... A CYLINDER CHOPPER that merits the Gehl name!

A cylinder cutterhead is the heart of this new Gehl "300" chopper. Nine knives whirl at 1000 RPM to cut and throw material with each razor-sharp slice. Standard tungsten-carbide faced knives and cutterbar built-in knife sharpener. No feeder apron. Crop attachments pivot with the feed-in mechanism — the opening is always perfectly aligned with feed rolls, providing steady, even bites to the knives. Three attachments available: hay pick-up, one-row, and a two-row that handles both wide and narrow rows.

TWO-ROW

- Chops 28-40" rows
- Forward-neutral-reverse
- Stalk bumper bar for butt-first feeding
